I looked up just in time to see the roof going straight up in the air like an umbrella.

Right under it was a big, red, huge ball of fire. The roof seemed to hang in the air and then it broke up into little pieces.

I could hear people bawling inside. The building was on fire. It was horrible.

'This is quite untrue.' 'It is, however, a good sample of the whispering campaign which has been set on foot. It would have been most foolish to keep this up for so long.'"

Failure to Buy a Horse
Leads to Fine of $300

OTTAWA, Feb. 16. — (CP) — The story of the Vancouver man and the race horse that failed to materialize is a good example of the tricks a Canadian may try to smuggle money out of the country. The foreign exchange control board said the Vancouver man, who was in the horse was a typical example. This man was given a permit in 1946 to get $25,000 in U.S. currency to go to the U.S. to buy a race horse. The money was given on condition that all the unused U.S. dollars would be brought back to Canada and returned to the bank. Months went by with no evidence of the import of the horse. The months rolled into years.

The man was finally located in Vancouver last September. He explained that he had been unable to find a suitable horse in the U.S. but had used all his American money for expenses and pleasure purposes. He was fined $300.

The board did not disclose the names of various persons connected in 1949 of infractions which led to $80,207 in fines and forfeitures.

"The ingenuity of persons attempting to smuggle U.S. or Canadian currency across the border was matched only by the astuteness of customs officials in finding it," the board said.

"When money paid to their corsets, hid it in the hands of their housewife, and among their children.

For pleasure purposes Canadians are permitted to take $100 in U.S. funds from Canada each year. This amount is exclusive of $10 in American money and $15 in Canadian which can be taken out without a permit each year.

One of the biggest catches was a new returning to Seattle after a long stay in Victoria, B.C. He said he was carrying $85 in U.S. currency and $16 in Canadian money. Investigation disclosed an additional $10,352 in U.S. money hidden in his clothing. He was fined $25 and costs.

Throne Speech
Read in House

OTTAWA, Feb. 16. — (CP) — Extension of unemployment insurance benefits to new categories of workers and renewal of prices support legislation for some primary products was forecast today in the Speech from the Throne at the opening of parliament.

The speech, read in the senate chamber by the governor-general, Viscount Alexander, gave no details of the legislation. It is believed that the unemployment insurance benefits will be extended to workers in seasonal employment not covered by existing legislation.

At Jan. 12, there were $23,000,000 unemployed in Canada.

The prices support legislation applies to farm and fish products. The new legislation, extending existing acts passed after the war, will be aimed at assuring farmers and fishermen of a fair price for their products.

The speech said that legislation will be introduced to continue the Canadian wheat board, as the sole marketing agent for wheat and coarse grains.

Also to be introduced is a bill providing for revision of the Indian Act. The new legislation is expected to provide for the rights of Canada's 135,000 Indians.

Several changes will be made to the Canada Shipping Act. Some of them will incorporate changes suggested by the safety of life at sea convention of 1948 and others will deal with the registration in Canada of Canadian ships.

The opening ceremonies were brief and not as colorful as in previous years when formal dress was a "must" and when the governor-general rode from Rideau Hall to the parliament buildings in a horse-drawn sleigh with a mounted echeion of plumed guards.

Stock Marketing Drop During Year

Livestock marketings in Alberta during 1949 were below the total marketings in the province during the previous year, annual report of the Dominion Department of Agriculture shows.

Price structure during 1949 was lower than that recorded the previous year, the report states. Total value of all livestock marketed in Alberta during 1949 was $155,000,000. This figure represents 1,750,000 head of cattle, hogs, sheep and calves.

MOQ DECLINE
Sharpest market decline was hogs. During 1949 total number of hogs traded in the province was 1,163,453, as compared to 924,717 for the following year. The market increase for hogs last year was only two cents a head.

Cattle prices showed an average increase of $1.25 over the previous year. Number of cattle marketed last year was only slightly less than the 1948 figure.

Nearly 8,000 more cattle were exported to the U.S. last year than in 1948.

Rotary Formation Comes Every Day

One new Rotary club is being formed every 24 hours throughout the world, Edmonton Rotarians were told today by H. E. "Mac" Carrier of Saskatoon, past district governor of Rotary International. Mr. Carrier addressed a luncheon meeting of Edmonton main branch club celebrating the 45th anniversary of the founding of Rotary in Chicago by Paul Harris.

Mr. Carrier said there are now 6,843 Rotary clubs in between 75 and 80 countries. Membership totals 254,000. Mr. Carrier warned against judging the organization by size and numbers and emphasized that quality of personnel and work is still the main measuring stick.

MERCHANTS BUSY

Search for Watermelon Underway to Aid Child

The search was on today for the watermelons that may help to save the life of six-year-old neophyte sufferer Eddie Gonsk, 2312-37 street.

The ailing boy's father, Mike Gonsk, appealed to local merchants in the city yesterday after he learned that his child in Kilgore, Texas, ill with the same dangerous kidney ailment that has threatened his son's life for almost three years now, had been helped by diet of watermelon juice.

Unobtainable anywhere in the U.S. or Canada at this time of year is the grim report to date, although there was hope some may be obtained in Canal Zone.

The father meanwhile has "placed an order" with Woodward's Ltd. fruit department. He is a former employee of the firm.

The department store's fruit purchaser said this morning that he had phoned Vancouver to contact Southern California and Mexico markets for possible watermelon shipment.

Eddie's father went to his carpentering job at the home of W. S. Miller today after reporting wiring the head of Miller Motors.

Miller is in Florida, appealing for help.

The ailing boy's condition was reported unchanged today. His mother said she was taking him for "more X-rays."

Chance for the Bigger Minds

Winston Churchill's proposal that, if he is elected to power, he will adopt entirely new methods and the "cold war" is so important that it is difficult to see how the British voter can fail to be impressed with it.

Certainly it holds out a new hope to the common man all over the world who feels that the stereotyped handling of the international situation by obvious mediocrities is leading gradually but inevitably to another conflict.

And that conflict, if it comes, can be so horrible, so the scientists assure us, as to devastate the planet and make large sections of it uninhabitable.

There is no doubt that a great volume of sincerity and good will and intellectual integrity is at work throughout Britain and the United States trying to solve the problem of growing hostility between Soviet Russia and the democracies.

But the very fact that the breach continues to widen and that the threat continues to enlarge itself with these qualities, desirable and necessary as they are, are not enough.

Where's That New Garbage Bylaw?

More than two months have passed since city council last danced lightly around Edmonton's garbage collection problem.

In mid-December aldermen sparred with the new garbage bylaw previously approved by the bylaws committee, ending it with the exception of one item—the very crux of the whole business.

They sidestepped the question of cutting total weight of garbage can contents to 75 pounds, and asked commissioners to report back on whether sufficient light-weight cans can be made available by July 1, to replace the estimated 35,000 to 40,000 oil and gas drums which now line the city's back lanes.

It was reported at that time that the new bylaw was to come into effect July 1.

Where is the commissioners' report on garbage can availability?

Where is council's determination to resolutely effect a literal cleanup of Edmonton's disgraceful garbage situation?

Are we going to have lighter garbage

And so one's mind goes back to the war years when almost every good will and intellectual integrity were busy losing the struggle as rapidly as it could be lost and when a greater intelligence coupled with a greater will came into the picture and applied a new indomitable force to the hopeless situation and the tide was turned.

The world is in just as grave danger today as it was in 1940. The present drift into deeper hostility, which represents the best effort of the mediocrities, is exactly parallel to the advancing line of the Germans against the mediocrities of that day were also helpless.

No man can believe that there is absolutely no common ground upon which the democracies can meet with the Russians and find some mutual point of agreement.

If that common ground can be found, Winston Churchill will find it. For this is a case that needs unusual qualities of leadership, an emergency in which ordinary talent will not work.

That is why Canadian watch the British elections next week with unusual interest. It is not too much to say that the fate of the world may hang on them.

Letters to the Editor

can or lower garbage trucks, as The Bulletin has urgently suggested?

If any citizen using an oil or gas drum for garbage after July 1 is going to face a stiff fine in a court of law, he is entitled to at least a few months' notice, so he can buy a smaller, lighter, standard garbage receptacle.

When the new city council took office in November, with its fresh, younger faces and attitudes to city business, many citizens expected a lot.

They expected to see expeditious treatment of a majority of the problems plaguing the city.

Their disappointment must be acute, in view of the merry-go-round treatment both in light and garbage questions have received.

It's long past time for council to come to firm grips with both.

Tonight's special meeting, it is to be devoutly hoped, will settle the contentious and long-standing tax control muddle.

What are we waiting for on the garbage problem?

It is all right that this city of ours is growing faster than any other city in Canada, and therefore we also agree that building trade is today the most important. Since plumbing trade constitutes a great percentage of our building cost, it is natural for every builder to be interested in its phase.

If we compare the costs of each trade in an ordinary dwelling for an average citizen, I would be inclined to believe that the plumber's price are out of proportion to any other trades.

Let me illustrate. Why should a plumber job that takes $300.00 material, and five days labour cost $100.00? I invite a legitimate plumber to explain this.

Again, it is very interesting to know why it is necessary for an average good mechanic to apprentice for four years with a plumber that did not have the apprenticeship, before he is permitted to write examination for a master plumber's license.

How many plumbers in this city had four years experience before they started to install gas lines for home connections? Or we do not want any competition?

Edmonton city council should consider it.

The current could be thrown in as a special service at the regular parking rate or it could run off a separate meter at a special extra rate.

Such a device would keep many more private cars in operation during the winter months. It would take the load off crowded trams and buses.

The Edmonton city council should consider it.

It is not only that conscientious public servants should have to react under this sort of shakedown from politicians who have not yet shown that they are more than sensation-mongers.

Costs of Plumbing

Editor, Bulletin — It is the plumbing business I am writing about. Since an open discussion about licensing of taxi cab drivers was carried out in your paper, I got an idea that your paper stands for a square deal in a square business, and therefore I believe you will welcome public opinion on any subject relating to an honest and necessary of our citizens.

We all agree that this city of ours is growing faster than any other city in Canada, and therefore we also agree that building trade is today the most important. Since plumbing trade constitutes a great percentage of our building cost, it is natural for every builder to be interested in its phase.

Editor, Bulletin — "Should women be treated as human beings."

Of all the stupid questions you have in your column, Stan Ross, this one takes the cake.

Why did you have to ask such a stupid question when there are so many decent men in the city who have never would have been so very different.

If this is actually their belief (seems incredible) they should have their heads examined, and the result would, no doubt, put them away in a safe place.

One would almost be inclined to believe that they are so female relations or ties because surely they are not referring to their sister wives, sweethearts and especially mothers, when they say things like this. It definitely says "women" not "woman" which naturally applies to all in its entirety. Maybe Jack Topsy, they were just "drug up."

$40,000 Will Part Forgery Judge Finds

CALGARY, Feb. 16.—(CP)—Mr. Justice H. J. Macdonald of the Alberta supreme court has found that a signature on a codicil to a will was a forgery and that a second codicil did not express "the true will of the deceased." He set aside the codicils and two transfers of land from the $40,000 estate left by John de Haan Smith, Nanton, Alberta farmer.

The ruling was handed down yesterday in a 25-page judgement. Smith died in 1943 at the age of 83. Nine nephews and nieces of Smith, all residing in the United States, were equal beneficiaries under a will dated Aug. 17, 1943. They started the action to have set aside the codicils and transfers, which gave the entire estate to other beneficiaries not related to Smith.

The codicil which Mr. Justice Macdonald said was signed by a forged signature, bequeathed 150 acres of land near Ennis, Alta. To James Kowalew. Smith's purported signature was witnessed by "A. Driggs" and "Louise Jackson."

The other codicil directed that any balance owed to Smith by W. G. Henry, Nanton farmer, on the purchase of three quarter-sections of land be paid to Henry's son, John Forster Henry. At the time of Smith's death there was $6,700 owing on the land.

TRANSFERS OF LAND

Dealing with the transfers of land, The judgment said Smith transferred to the defendants Mr. and Mrs. H. D. McGilivray, Nanton farmers, some 960 acres of land for "B" and other valued consideration.

Mr. Justice Macdonald said: "I do not think that the defendant McGilivray have shown that the agreement and transfer of Sept. 31, 1944, were freely and voluntarily made by the deceased (Smith) after independent advice. It follows that the agreement and transfer must be set aside."

His lordship set aside also the transfer on Nov. 7, 1944 by Smith to Mrs. Hattie McGilivray, certain property in the town of Nanton.

Bid To China Made By U.S.

Exclusive To The Bulletin

BANGKOK, Thailand, Feb. 16.—(BUP)—The Far East conference of American diplomats broke up today after holding out the lure of U.S. aid to all Far Eastern countries opposed to Moscow's domination, including Communist China.

Observers said it appeared that the U.S. state department was willing to lure China Communist leader Mao Tse-tung away from the Russian camp by suggesting he could get more from Washington than he received in Moscow.

The communists appeared to go out of its way, observers said, to leave the door open for the Chinese Communists, who only 24 hours earlier concluded a 30-year treaty of alliance and economic aid with the Russians.

"The betting in the Gatehead pub," says Zilliacus, "is still 6-4 on me."

Last June, the ruling Labor party unceremoniously ditched him for following a pro-Russian line on foreign affairs. Communist newspapers which once applauded his speeches now abuse him for supporting Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito.

Five years ago, the politically shrewd tossed Zilliacus as a good bet for a high post in the foreign office.

His fall from grace doesn't seem to have affected his confidence. He is still a member of the House of Commons, and he is still a member of the House of Commons.

Long Meet Looms For Parliament

Winters, Gardiner Most Likely To Bear Brunt of Criticism

By G. R. Leighton
Public Opinion Bureau

OTTAWA, Feb. 16.—Unemployment and changes in the agricultural products marketing situation are two matters likely to radically change the forecasts on the length of the parliamentary session which started today.

A few weeks ago the popular prognosis was that the session would be short-lived compared with some others of recent times. Today there is not so much optimism.

Those who are weary over the growth of unemployment in specialized areas will have Resources Minister Winters as their main target, with Labor Minister Humphrey Mitchell for secondary aim.

Mr. Winters has already said he contemplates no special plan of public works.

His expectation is that construction, housing, the Trans-Canada highway will take up the bulk of the floating labor force.

As compared with previous years in Canada's economic history, the impact of unemployment is said to be softened considerably by the benefits of unemployment insurance and baby bonus.

In the early thirties such doses as these may have made all the difference between desolation and substance.

But the debates can be expected to be lively and trenchant.

Agricultural marketing policies stand out as the most likely of all subjects for extended debate and difference.

Agricultural Minister Gardiner's capacity for offense and defense may well undergo its most outstanding test.

The Agricultural Support Act comes up for renewal, providing a fund of $200,000,000 for approved measures of price support, if necessary.

With all the clamor of organized agriculture for floor prices on eggs and bacon and cheese some doubtful sparring will reflect the anxiety of primary producers in general on the floor of the House.

Food and supplies are essential other products upon which action is demanded with others ready to be included should any definite break from the high prices of the past few years be threatened.

Europe's Red Bloc To Get China Pact

Satellites to Combine in Trade And Finance to Oust the West

(Writers of the following story on the Soviet-Chinese pact bring together long experience in diplomatic and for eastern affairs. John Roderick has been stationed in China and the Far East, and knows Mao Tse-Tung and other Communist leaders from personal contacts. Arthur Gavahan has long covered the important diplomatic beat in London and Paris.—The Editor.)

By John Roderick and Arthur Gavahan
LONDON, Feb. 16.—(AP)—A number of East European countries were reported today to be forging in concert with Russia, a multi-million dollar trade pact with Communist China.

The countries are identified — besides Russia — as Poland, Czechoslovakia and Finland, which, while anti-Communist, is dependent upon the goodwill of neighbor Russia.

AT MOSCOW PARLEY

Delegations from these countries have been in Moscow during the lengthy Chinese-Russian talks, which culminated yesterday with the signing of a new Sino-Soviet treaty.

The effect of such an agreement, which would be on an interlocking basis, would be to weld European and Asiatic Communism even more closely together.

Figures have not been mentioned by eastern diplomats here, but the amount is expected to be large. Evidently this would supplement the $300,000,000 Sino-Soviet agreement just negotiated in Moscow.

The pact would serve as a stimulus to China's program for reconstruction and eventual industrialization. Through it, Mao Tse-Tung would get some of the machines, steel and tools he needs to convert the Chinese preponderantly agricultural economy into an industrial one.

Eastern European countries would profit, also, through access to China's vast stores of raw materials and natural resources, such as coal, iron and tungsten.

COLD SHOULDER WEST

Taken in combination with Russia's concessions to China in Manchuria, such a pact could well eliminate western powers as a required factor in the future development of China.

It could put China's Communist leaders in a position to thumb their noses economically at both Britain and the United States. Diplomatically, this could result in an even greater coolness in Peking toward the west.

A Moscow dispatch said foreign diplomats there were attaching great importance to a section of the alliance dealing with international actions which have as their purpose securing of the peace and security of the whole world.

This section, the diplomats in Soviet capital pointed out, could well cover a great many topics and would be needed to convert the Communist preponderantly agricultural economy into an industrial one.

ALL-TIME favorites, Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, make their 25th movie one of Universal-International's finest. Co-starring with Boris Karloff, they team up in hilarious comedy, 'Abbott and Costello Meet The Killer.' Raunchy show of murder, meriment and murder starts tomorrow at Rialto Theatre.

Abbott and Costello Film Is Spine-Tingling Riot

The twenty-fifth picture made by the two comedians during the past 11 years, 'Abbott and Costello Meet The Killer' is rated as hilarious as any picture ever produced by Universal-International. It starts tomorrow at Rialto Theatre.

Sharing co-star credit with them is Boris Karloff, who adds to make the belloy a full guy, and do everything in their power to keep police investigation from revealing their own past activities.

However, Costello proves too stupid to work into their plans, and police finally nab the real killer. In several scenes Costello's wails for help bring howls of laughter from moviegoers. But because the studio plans to make a few more

Abbott and Costello comedies, he is finally saved.

Bergman Film Does Coast to Coast Flop

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—(AP)—The Bergman-Rossellini movie 'Stromboli' had its world premiere yesterday in one of the century's hottest blitzes of publicity.

From coast to coast, while protests from church, civic and some other groups mounted, the film opened to American audiences of varying size.

Early critical reaction was unfavorable.

"Not especially interesting nor particularly convincing," said the Hollywood Reporter.

"All it lacks is a good story," was the Hollywood Daily Variety's verdict.

Howard Hughes and his RKO Radio Pictures capitalized in their advertising on the much-dubbed out-of-control romance between Miss Bergman and director Roberto Rossellini.

The public at first anyway—failed to catch fire. While crowds formed to buy tickets in some places, first-day audiences generally were about average.

'SLOW-PACED, WEAK' Mark Barron of the Associated Press found 'Stromboli' slow-paced and weak. Bergman gives a technically good performance, not up to 'the splendid acting she has done in previous stage and screen appearances,' he said.

The picture, Barron said, is

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas
HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—What happens when a movie star poses as a door-to-door seller? In Lucille Ball's case, she flopped flatter than a doornail.

The carrot-topped actress will play the title role in "The Fuller Brush Girl." Since realism is the keynote in Hollywood now, she got in training for her part by being a residence retailer of cosmetics.

Not only did she meet buyer resistance—she had trouble giving her wares away.

She picked out an area in north Los Angeles for her research. I tagged along. Also three studio employees, a photographer, Miss Ball's hairdresser and a studio chauffeur.

Lucille sling her cosmetic kit over her shoulder and strode up to the first house. She rang the doorbell and tapped her foot impatiently. A housewife stuck her head around the door.

"How do you do," said the Writer Finds Life In Arctic 'Rough'

Exercise Troops Have Rugged Task in Yukon Warfare

The following was carried by dispatch wire from the "Front" of Exercise Sweedbrier, where BUP staff correspondent is the only reporter thus far to have accompanied troops directly into much warfare in the combined Canadian-United States war games. —The Editor.

By Noel Mostert
Special to the Bulletin

WITH DEFENDING FORCE IN THE YUKON, Feb. 16.—(BUP)—Three days in the Sweedbrier front line convinced this reporter that Arctic warfare will demand the toughest indoctrination yet devised and that the troops here still had a lot to learn.

The experience was morale-shattering, bitter and utterly depressing.

For 72 hours I alternately crouched in or drove a snowmobile, built camp on three-foot deep snowbanks, and joined snowshoe patrols scouting for the so-called enemy.

In fact I played the full role — rather attempted to do so — of a member of Canada's toughest winter-trained force, the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry at Calgary.

TOUGH GRIND

The regiment was pushing up the Alaska Highway to hold the invaders at bay.

Even the rigorous training which had prepared these men for the exercise didn't prevent some of them from collapsing with fatigue over the wheels of their vehicles, coughing with nausea after travelling three days and nights with as much the minimum of food and sleep, and suffering acute leadache from the general strain.

I came close to breaking point on the rare occasions when we pitched camp. Generally it was around two or three in the morning after spending the day on the road and when the mercury was at its lowest.

The night temperature averaged 30 to 40 below.

I'd like to head for the tropics if and when the next war comes unprotected basement window and gained entrance to the tavern by crawling through a furnace hot air pipe.

'Frisco Bans Peanut Sale At Ball Park

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—(BUP)—The Pacific Coast League seals today barred the sale of peanuts in their baseball park.

Too expensive, club president Paul Fagan said. It costs $20,000 worth of janitors a year to clean up the mess.

Fagan admitted that he doesn't mind ripping into a goober or two himself at the ball park, but he figured out the other day: "It costs us four and one-quarter cents for giving every man, woman and child who buys a bag the privilege of throwing them on our floor."

Fagan broke it down: The peanuts sell for 10 cents a bag but the Seals collect only two and a half cents a bag. Janitors get $1.26 an hour, or two and one-quarter cents a minute. The janitors were clocked. It takes them three minutes to sweep up the shells from each section at a cost of six and three-quarter cents a sack.

No, no more peanuts at the Seals' stadium.

It doesn't seem to work that way with the Nordic beauties, Greta Garbo, Ingrid Bergman, Vivien Lindfors and Marta Toren all did well by themselves in Glitterland.

Chinese Puzzle

Confucius says: Newspaper columnist who take time by foolish likely to get hair pulled out.

As if poor China isn't having enough trouble without me starting the country off on a new year two days ahead of time. That's just what I did in this department the other day when I wrote that Wednesday was New Year's Day for China. Friday is actually the day.

It was bad enough making that mistake but I did a double take by saying I got my information from Frank Wong of Pao's Cafe. Now Frank is catching it right and left from a majority of Edmonton's 400 Chinese residents.

I am particularly saddened because I have often been able to put the old plain cheese sandwich and other delicacies on the cuff until payday at Frank's eatery.

Should Frank cut off my credit it would be a disaster of "gastronomic" proportions.

No sorry dear Wong

Elegant Elsie says I am sure lucky I made the mistake in Edmonton where there are only 400 Chinese people. She points out that if I were in China I would have 100,000,000 on my neck.

Chowder Trouble

If you talk to President J. H. Brown of the Maritimers' Association about chowder he's apt to clam up on you. Here's the reason:

The first year they held the big annual banquet Mr. Brown ordered 400 bowls of delicious clam chowder. Only 200 Maritimers showed up.

At the last big do, Brown thought that 200 steaming bowls would be sufficient and dined if 400 chowder-eating folk from 'way down east didn't get in the soup line.

So President Brown is still stewing about the soup for the big annual banquet tonight in the Macdonald.

Odds and Ends

George Shortreed, genial doorman at the wrestling arena in Edmonton Stock Stock Pavilion, isn't losing any weight these days. Probable reason: George eats from 22 to 15 hotdogs every night. In case he really gets hungry, he keeps a few bags of peanuts at his elbow. His weight: 270 pounds.

Jack Starkey and Wallace "Pop" Miller are a couple of lucky birds. One of those cold days a couple of weeks ago, Starkey and Miller hopped into a Beachcraft plane and flew down to Phoenix, Ariz. Edmonton businessmen are qualified pilots and fly their own planes.

Knudhelt the Red-Eyed Kowdy, the only man in history to be blackballed by Alcoholics Anonymous, wonders why the Chinese people hang about celebrating the new year for 10 days. Knudhelt says his own celebration of the New Year often runs right into his St. Patrick's day banter.

A grizzled CPR truckman down at Red Deer was pretty bewildered the other day. He was standing there the track when a CPR private car pulled to a halt and somebody called Johnson to come aboard.

The invitation came from Lieutenant-Governor John R. Bowen, who just wanted to say hello to one of his old ranch hands.

Grumpy overalls and all, Johnson was taken into the private car of CPR superintendent Joe Strother and introduced all around by His Honor. I think it was pretty nice for His Honor to remember an old employee like that, don't you?

An understanding good night to all and especially to all people who are always forgetting what day of the week it is.

Personal Enterprise Ideas Best in Debate

Debaters of Junior Chamber of Commerce defeated University of Alberta team Wednesday night in the Trocadero ballroom.

Subject was resolved that it was that in any business or private enterprise for the time that enterprise people must change their of taste to enter business for new views to meet current restrictions. But that in work for an employer that when enterprise fails with an University team took the new concepts is kept in the employer of five. Chamber's representatives on company, and that if a man with the affirmative view meets with resistance from his employer he will possibly have the same difficulty with business as the whole team rested on security of jobs.

University debaters were Jack Day and Gordon Wylie, Chamber team included: Barry Widman and Allen Palomares. Judges for the contest were: Prof. L. C. Hawes, D. Hornsman and H. Miao.

The national park system of the province of an employer can that province's man's chances of advances United States entrains a total of 100,000 acres in 189 different. Hosted by the University team and guests.

Dealers Not Excited Over Book Cleanup

Magazine distributing agencies in Edmonton refused to become excited over reports that a Medicine Hat agent, Oscar Wabon, had embarked on a "cleanup" campaign among newstands there.

"Northern Alberta is already credited with the cleanest newstands in the country," one distributor claimed. Wabon has refused to handle magazines with suggestive titles or covers.

One large agency head said that it "never had handled such literature anyway."

"I have two pocket editions here now from the east which we are refusing to distribute," manager of one agency stated.

SALES UP

The local agents agreed that sales here in the better type of magazine were increasing. The trend is directly contrary to that found by the Medicine Hat dealer who charged yesterday that "trash literature is flooding the country."

He emphasized his opinion by removing all such books already on a stand in Medicine Hat.

The clean-up in the southern Alberta city closely follows the campaign of W. D. Wylie, Social Credit MP for Medicine Hat. He is seeking an amendment to "criminal code" comparable to that banning crime "comics" in Canada.

The suggested amendment would make publishers rather than the retailer responsible for issuing such material.

Road Builders Ask Change

Inter-Provincial Pipeline Company and other similar pipeline firms have not made a formal petition to the Board of Industrial Relations for exemption of working hours under government rules.

K. A. Pugh, chairman of the board, today clarified reports of a recent application received from Alberta road builders who seek the board's permission to alter summer working hours.

"The application which the board received and which is now under review came from the Interstate Road Builders' Section, Alberta Division of the Canadian Construction Association," Mr. Pugh said.

"The submission asked for changes in the hours of work and minimum wage order No. 7. Highways to construction to remove the day limitation of working hours."

"It sought also to have the extension to other works of health, safety, minimum wages, annual earnings, and other matters, as well as the right to work on a year-round basis."

"The submission was not made by the Inter-Provincial Pipeline Company, or by any other pipeline company."

RAILWAYS ROLLING

Snow Is Cleared On West Route

Rail lines to the west coast were cleared last night after snowstorm. The clearing operation was completed by 11 p.m. and the west coast route is now open.

E. G. Skilling, superintendent of CNR transportation, today said that snow removal crews had cleared the main line between Edmonton and Regina, 600 miles west of Edmonton.

"It is expected that full schedule of trains will be resumed today," Skilling said. "The snowstorm was the heaviest to hit the west coast since the last snowstorm in 1977."

Highlights of a skating competition will be the exhibition of a youth show queue.

Publicity Group Drops Garb Ideas

Putting City on the Map Draft Brief Is Prepared

Preparation of an Edmonton theme moved a step nearer last night, when a sub-committee of the Put Edmonton on the Map committee met to analyze a draft submission to be presented to a general meeting at 8 p.m., Feb. 28, in city council chambers.

A skeleton brief consolidated representative of symbols by from the more than 100 suggestions submitted was considered in detail. Several suggestions were removed and several added.

Any idea of dressing Edmonton in a Daniel Boone hat or other fancy garb was mostly rejected.

The draft will now be circulated among dozens of interested groups for their study and recommendations, and the general meeting Feb. 28 will be asked to accept, revise or reject it.

"A theme for Edmonton cannot be produced as rapidly as editorial for the Edmonton Bulletin," said a spokesman, after several members heatedly referred to Sunday's editorial suggesting the committee start to allow some revision.

"A lot of time and thought has been in being, and will have to be expended before this city is truly ready."

Even when a "bargain" takes your eye, remember that the time to prevent expensive cleaning problems is when you choose a new item. Not every kind of button, belt or artificial flower can be counted on to come through dry cleaning looking like new. You'll be wise to remember that many such accessories must be removed before the dress goes to the cleaner.

in the KITCHEN...

By Jane Scott

You know, there's something sweet 'n' lovely about the promise of springtime that turns the kitchen queen's head to plans for light, frothy desserts.

That's all very well and good... providing you don't have to contend with choline 'n' such that the family always eager for fresh taste temptation when dessert course is served.

Perhaps you've even had this experience with your family and guests...

The dinner can be perfection from soup through salad, and a lot of trouble too, and yet not praise except a clean plate.

But the dessert course—that's something again. Omit it—and even after a hearty meal there's a cheated look on their faces.

Score a bit with it—and you score out of all proportion to the trouble it took.

It needn't be elaborate. Sometimes it's the easy ones that are ever biggest because, though simple, they are just the right thing.

Sometimes it's an old favorite, sometimes new trick that's worth its weight in gold because it's easy to do, but seems elaborate and excitingly different. It ends the whole meal with a triumphant flourish.

Reputations are made on just such desserts! Some soufflés are apt to fall flat if a soufflé in a little bit of coconut, coconut dessert soufflé. You just try it and see.

CHOCOLATE COCONUT SOUFFLE
2 1/2 cups unsweetened chocolate
2 cups milk
1/2 cup minute tapioca
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup, southern style, coconut, chopped
2 egg yolks, beaten until thick and lemon-colored
3 egg whites, stiffly beaten

Add chocolate to milk and beat in double boiler. When chocolate is melted, beat with rotary egg beater until blended. Combine minute tapioca, sugar, and salt; add to chocolate mixture. Stir constantly, stirring frequently. Add butter and coconut.

Cool slightly while beating egg whites. Add egg whites and mix well. Add egg whites, turn into greased baking dish. Place in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 60 to 70 minutes. Serve 8.

Then if you're real true chocolate lovers I have a little full of delectable, creamy goodness... but oh, those calories!

PROOF OF THE PUDDING is in the eating and when that "pudding" turns out to be jellied pigs' feet, cooked in the old-country fashion of Mrs. H. Yanishewsky. It is a four or five hour job too.

Ukrainian Recipe Takes Five-Hour Shift at Stove

It's an enthusiastic homemaker who'll spend more than four or five hours over a hot old stove for one dish. But then again, it has something to do with pride in one's art. And the delicious jellied pigs' feet can be considered an art in the family home of Mrs. H. Yanishewsky.

Mrs. Yanishewsky's fellow paragon at Ukrainian Greek Orthodox Church point the finger of pride her way when cooking heads the conversation.

And this browned Ukrainian Canadian mother-of-five promised us the renowned recipe for jellied pigs' feet.

CHOCOLATE BOX CAKE
1 recipe chocolate cake
1/2 cup cream, whipped
